PREMIER KING WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN IN WEST WITH NEEPAWA SPEECH TO-NIGHT

Pronouncements on Trade Developments and on Other Angles May Give New Angle to Federal Election Contest; Policy is to Relieve Basic Industries as Far as Possible From Taxation.

Winnipeg, Sept. 26 (By Staff Correspondent Canadian Press)—Premier Mackenzie W. L. King arrived here last night for the opening of his Western campaign at Neepawa to-night. His Neepawa speech and in subsequent speeches throughout the West, it is expected, that the Premier will break considerable new ground. Since his last speech in Quebec City on Wednesday, Mr. King has taken opportunity to secure a considerable amount of material touching on trade development and in other directions and it is likely his pronouncements may give a new angle in the campaign.

RECIPROCITY

In his Maritime speech the Premier took opportunity to indicate that the Fielding offer of reciprocity with the United States was still on the statute books and there is a suggestion he may discuss this in more details on his Western campaign. It is further understood that he intends to press the necessity of unity between West and East as the mainspring of Liberal policy.

A broken bridge trestle on the National Transcontinental occasioned a hang in the Premier's week-end plans. As originally arranged, it was not intended that he should speak again before he reached Neepawa. But when he arrived at Cochrane, from Ottawa it was found that the connecting train from Quebec was three hours late owing to the delay from a broken bridge trestle, and advantage was taken for a brief speech from the end of the Premier's car.

INDUSTRIAL POLICY

The Prime Minister summarized the accomplishments of his administration as follows:

1. Domestic Government.

No one, he said, had ever charged the government with not being honest and, by every means in its power, it had tried both to reduce public expenditure and to reduce taxes. He argued that reduction in taxation made for business prosperity. He took the ground that the Government's policy in reducing duties on imports of production used by the basic industries of agriculture, lumbering, mining and fishing, had furthered improvement in trade.

“Our policy,” he said, “is to develop the great basic industries, should it not then appeal to these parts of Canada which furnish raw material on which the rest of the Dominion depends?”

“We have felt,” he went on, “that we should seek to relieve these basic industries as far as possible from taxation.”

He appealed to the electors to concentrate on the Liberal candidate. “The only hope for the Conservatives,” he declared, “is in the three-cornered fight.”

CONFERENCE ON CHILD WELFARE OPENS TO-DAY

Progress Made in Legislation, President Reports

Hopes to See Minimum Age Set For Young Workers

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The history of the five years of the child welfare council might be called the autobiography of an infant prodigy, said Mrs. Carl S. Thorburn, in her presidential address at the opening of the council's fifth conference here this morning. Other progress has been made in legislation and in awakening the community consciousness to the necessity of child welfare activity. The outlook for the future was most promising. There was no limit to the ramifications of child welfare work.

Mrs. Thorburn hoped that the next Federal Parliament would at once ratify the League of Nations child convention, fixing the minimum age for children admitted to industrial employment.

In the report of the secretary, Mrs. Charlotte Whitten, stated the council membership consisted of nineteen national organizations, fourteen provincial, 161 municipal and 191 individuals.

CANADA SENDS GREETINGS TO AUSTRALIA

President of Canadian Press Conveys Premier's Message

Felicitations Exchanged at Third Imperial Press Conference

Melbourne, Sept. 28.—Greetings from the Government and people of the Dominion of Canada, to the sister dominion, the Commonwealth of Australia, were conveyed to-day by J. H. Woods, president of the Canadian Press, in a message brought by Mr. Woods from the Right Hon. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, to the Right Hon. Stanley Bruce, Premier of Australia. These felicitations were exchanged at a state dinner in connection with the third Imperial Press Conference, meeting in this city.

Premier King's message as given by Mr. Woods, was as follows: “As president of the Canadian Press, I wish you would carry with you a word of greeting from myself to the premier of Australia and a similar word to the government and people of Australia on behalf of the government of our dominion.”

“As sister nations within the British Empire, Australia and Canada are bound by ties of friendship and kinship which are very near and which, through the promise of larger intercourse by trade and communication, we are pleased to see becoming united more firmly. The Imperial Press Conference should afford a happy medium for the expression of the ideas and ideals we cherish in common.”

“In the circumstances I should be very pleased if you would expand the range of greetings I am venturing to send on behalf of the Canadian people so as to include not only fellow citizens of the British Empire resident in Australia, but fellow Britishers in all British communities as they have been ended under an agreement between the employers and workers, operation in all of them was resumed to-day.”

Shanghai, Sept. 28.—Chinese telegraph operators struck to-day demanding increases in wages and shorter working hours. The industrial strike in all British communities here has been ended under an agreement between the employers and workers, operation in all of them was resumed to-day.

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—City manager legislation will not run the gauntlet of the Provincial House without opposition from some members of the Vancouver City Council making itself heard. This was brought home forcibly to three of the Vancouver members of the Legislature to-day at a conference in the mayor's office to discuss city charter amendments.

“The city manager from of government, like prohibition, and other new-fangled ideas originating across the border is largely in its experimental stages,” Alderman Bennett asserted. “To my knowledge there has been no great expression of opinion from the people that they want the mayor and council to abdicate their powers.”

Victoria Nomination To-morrow; Oak Bay and Saanich Forces in Action

Everything is set for the Liberal nominating convention at the Alexandra Club to-morrow night.

W. M. Ivel and Henry C. Hall, K.C., will stand for nomination as Liberal candidate in the Dominion election.

“It will be one of the biggest conventions of recent years,” said H. H. Shandley, president of the Liberal Association. “Interest in the meeting is very keen.”

Oak Bay Liberals have opened committee rooms at 2002 Oak Bay Avenue for the campaign of Thomas B. Booth, it was announced to-day. Arrangements are now complete for the meeting in St. Mary's Hall on Thursday, October 1, when Mr. Booth and others speakers will give addresses.

WORLD LEAGUE RAISES HOPES OF SUPPORTERS

Dandurand Reviews Accomplishments of Sixth Assembly

Work Should Confound Skeptics and Convert Pessimists

Geneva, Sept. 28.—In reviewing the work of the sixth assembly of the League of Nations, which adjourned on Saturday night, President Dandurand of Canada stressed the value of the protocol for the removal of the last traces of slavery and said he hoped that it would be welcomed by the governments concerned.

Dealing with the delicate question of minorities the president praised the combined and sincere efforts of the League of Nations and the governments concerned, and the minorities themselves, would lead to a happy medium for the expression of the ideas and ideals we cherish in common.

Referring to the work of the permanent mandates commission President Dandurand said the members were firmly convinced that the mandatory powers had at heart the constant improvement of the material and moral conditions of the populations placed under their vigilant tutelage.

With regard to the questions of arbitration, security and disarmament the senator declared that the deliberations of the assembly had shown that the spirit of the protocol drawn up last year still lived and constituted an ideal and rule of conduct.

In conclusion President Dandurand declared that the work which had been accomplished by the assembly was an ideal and rule of conduct.

“Our work has been of a nature to confound skeptics and convert pessimists and to give all believers in the League fresh ground for confidence, optimism and faith,” he said.

Mr. Roe was born at Courtenay, B.C., was educated at the University School here, gained his first business experience with the Royal Bank in Cumberland and Courtenay, went overseas and at the end of the war was sent by the Royal Bank to Cuba. There Mr. Roe's rise has been rapid from the post of manager to that of assistant to the supervisor. While at school here he gained prominence as a rifle shot and a fisherman. Since going to Cuba he has developed into a clever golfer, winning the golf cup in the competition there a few days before he left for Victoria. He has brought with him to Victoria a remarkable set of luxury golf clubs which are believed to be the first of their kind seen in this city. During the next two weeks he will perform with them on the local courses.

Low sugar prices which have been prevailing have slowed business up a bit in Cuba, Mr. Roe said. The present price depression, he explained, is driving smaller growers out of business and into the hands of large companies which are assuming control of the sugar industry.

"It's all right," said his host. "Don't you know the old proverb, 'Barking dogs don't bite'?"

"Ah, yes," said the Frenchman, "I know the proverb, you know the proverb; but see dog—does he know the proverb?"

CONSERVATIVE PLAN TO RAISE "HOWL" PREMIER DECLARES

Oliver Explains North Vancouver Election Document Issue

Government officials will not be able to produce documents ordered by Mr. Justice Gregory in connection with the North Vancouver election case, because by law the documents are held for one year and then must be destroyed.

This announcement was made at the Parliament Buildings today.

In connection with this Premier Oliver gave out the following statement explaining the whole issue and the plan of Conservatives to pave the way for a "howl":

"My attention has been called to a newspaper report to the effect that an order of the Supreme Court had been made by Mr. Justice Gregory and directed to the Deputy Provincial Secretary in respect to documents pertaining to the North Vancouver election, which election has been before the courts on a number of occasions during the past year.

"I do not know what kind of a game the opposition is playing—ten months after the election they apply for a court order in respect to these documents. I believe they know full well that these documents cannot now be produced and that they do not now exist.

"128 of the Provincial Elections Act reads thus: 'The Deputy Provincial Secretary shall retain for a year all documents relating to an election forwarded to him in pursuance of this act, and then, unless otherwise directed by an order of the speaker, or of the Supreme Court, shall cause them to be destroyed.'

"The terms of the statute are mandatory—shall cause them to be destroyed. I understand that the documents referred to in the court order have been destroyed as required by law. This enactment is not new, but has been the law since 1904.

"Just imagine, if you can, counsel learned in the law-making application for an order of court in respect to documents which they either knew, or should have known, did not exist.

"Now listen for the howl that will go up in respect to a government that permits documents to be destroyed according to a law put upon the statute book by the party which will now cry out loudly because the law has been permitted to operate."

BULLET MEANT FOR DEER KILLS HUNTER

Other hunters had meanwhile turned in a call to the Saanich police when told by Woodward of the accident while he was on his way out of the bush to notify the police. The Saanich police arrived at the scene by another route, and removed the body, taking it to the Sands Funeral Parlors.

Both men were experienced hunters, and had been used to the bush for many years. The late Mr. Richardson was a well-known resident of Saanich, residing in retirement on Regine Avenue for the last ten years. He is survived by his widow, resident at home; a married sister, Mrs. P. Humilty, wife of the chief engineer at the William Head Quarantine station, and relatives in other parts of Canada.

Both men had gone separately into the bush yesterday morning. Woodward with a rifle to hunt for deer, and the late Mr. Richardson with a shotgun, looking for birds. The victim of the fatality was accompanied by his dog, which may have scared up the deer seen by Woodward, and which led to the accidental shooting.

Woodward, who is a married man with two children, is detained pending the inquest to be held today. He spared no effort to do what he could at the scene, say the police, and rushed through the bush as their guide until exhausted with fatigue and the shock of the affair.

The accident is the first fatality to mar the hunting season on the lower island.

In reference to the wearing of khaki clothing in the bush the provincial police renew their former warning that it is a dangerous habit. Despite police warnings year after year khaki-clad hunters still go in numbers into the thickest part of the bush in search of game.

CITY TAX SALE OPENS WEDNESDAY

Few Improved Properties Offered; Outlying Vacant Lots Dominate List

The annual tax sale of Victoria City will open at 10 o'clock next Wednesday, September 30, in the City Hall council chamber, City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith acting as auctioneer.

The great majority of the properties allowed to go to tax sale are in section 4, in the northeastern district, and in the vicinity of Rock Bay and the Upper Harbor. Nearly all the properties allowed to remain in the sale list this year are unimproved, and in many cases are in groups of considerable size.

Pursuant to his usual practice, City Treasurer Smith will put up for sale any properties asked for by bidders, enabling parties interested in protecting estates to conclude their business at the sale with a minimum expenditure of time.

PRAIRIE THRESHING TWO WEEKS AHEAD

General Conditions Excellent For Farmers, Says C.P.R. Report

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Though rain and snow continued to retard threshing in the prairie provinces last week, threshing generally is well advanced, and the season is now two weeks ahead of last year, states the weekly crop report of the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A period of good dry weather is needed to permit the early completion of threshing. Soil is in excellent condition everywhere for fall ploughing, and a very substantial increase of acreage is assured over 1924. Recent rains have maintained pastures in good shape, and the condition of cattle is reported as excellent. Livestock receipts on the local markets were a little lighter than the previous week with a shade higher. In Manitoba no heavy rains were experienced last week, but at a few points precipitation was just heavy enough to interfere with threshing. As threshing will be finished earlier than usual stock will have a much longer run. There is an abundance of green growth in the fields, and stock of all kinds will go into winter quarters in excellent condition. Fall ploughing is advanced rapidly. It is thirty per cent done, while threshing is about seventy-five per cent completed.

FALL PLOUGHING.
Saskatchewan has from sixty to seventy per cent of its wheat threshed, and forty-five to fifty per cent of its other grain have been threshed. Fields are showing better than anticipated, and grass is fairly high, with apparently No. 2 predominating. Oats nearly destroyed by the dry hot weather of last summer are growing nicely now and will make good feed. No damage from frost has been met. Fall ploughing has been carried on vigorously under ideal soil and weather conditions, and a large acreage of land will be prepared for next year's crop.

Alberta has experienced the same weather conditions as Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Rain and snow in the last day or so will interfere slightly with threshing in southwest. Threshing has made fair headway in the south. It is from sixty to sixty-five per cent completed, and in the north from fifty to fifty-five per cent. Some damage has occurred in southwest from frost, and areas due to sprouting of grain in stock. However, the present weather being cool and dry should eliminate further loss from this cause.

Fall ploughing is from forty to forty-five per cent completed throughout the province.

Twenty-five per cent of the ploughing has already been done. In the Edmonton, Dunvegan and B. C. district threshing is proceeding with out interruption from rain, and the ground has dried out nicely.

Yields and grades in all districts are satisfactory and livestock is doing well. British Columbia is doing favorably weather for apple ripening during the past week. Fall seeding is general. Wealthy apples are about picked and the McIntoshes are now being gathered. They are a good crop, though some orchards show a considerable amount of scab as well as hail marks, which will reduce their quality. This is particularly noticeable in the Creston valley.

INDEPENDENT CITY HAS FULL CONTROL OF ALL BUILDING WORK

Special Legislation Gives Victoria Tight Grip Where Municipal Act Fails

The City Council has complete control of building operations within the city, whether new construction or alterations, it was this morning discovered by City Solicitor Fringle, at the conclusion of a long and successful search for legislation believed to exist.

Some months ago an unsuccessful effort of New Westminster, to enforce a building by-law in the courts, focused the attention of contractors upon failure of the Municipal Act to give power to municipalities to veto alterations to existing structures. This omission invalidated all by-laws, assuming authority to demand the taking out of permits for alterations.

MAY PROHIBIT
City Solicitor Fringle was confident that Victoria had been endowed with this right of supervision of alterations to buildings, and this morning found confirmation of his views in sub-section 2 of section 3 of the Victoria Special Powers Act of 1907. This measure was primarily passed to give the city power to undertake a special improvement of Victoria West, as a local improvement. Special clauses added gave the city powers on other matters, among them being wide supervision of all building operations.

The clause which covers the omission in the Municipal Act gives the city power to pass any by-laws required for "prohibiting and preventing the commencement of building operations or repairs, before the deposit of plans or issuance of a permit."

At last week's Convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, at the instance of Victoria, the union decided to ask the Legislature to strengthen the weak clause of the Municipal Act, to give all municipalities the powers possessed by Victoria by virtue of this special legislation.

"In spite of my profound repugnance of re-entering the political furnace, it is necessary for me to add that if the elections of LaBelle County send me to Parliament I shall retain the fullest liberty in my speech and in my vote. All party spirit is dead, ve dead, in me. The country has need of concerted action, but free and thoughtful, on the part of all people of goodwill, freed from the duress of parties to it. It is to them that I address myself. They are the people whom I wish to represent to the best of my restricted abilities."

Mr. Bourassa will begin his electoral campaign next Sunday at Mount Laurier.

FORKE EXPOUNDS PROGRESSIVE VIEW

Says Leaders Throw no Light on Problems

Morris, Man., Sept. 28.—"Mr. King and Mr. Meighen are not throwing much light on our problems. So far it has been a verbal duel," declared Robert Forke, Progressive leader, in a speech here Saturday night. "They do it so much in the House of Commons that when they get out before the people they seem to forget the major problems. It is not doing much toward helping us out of our difficulties."

Mr. Forke defended at some length the record of the Progressive Party in the House of Commons. The Progressives had been more active and more effective in opposition than the Conservatives, he said, and on such matters vitally affecting the West as freight rates and the Hudson Bay Railway, it was the Progressive Party who led the opposition and the Conservative Party which voted with the Government. Of the four budgets brought down by the Government the Progressive Party had put forward amendments to three. When the Government, in 1923 had reduced the tariff on the implements of production, the Progressives had lent their support and given the budget majority since confederation. In its other budgets, said Mr. Forke, the Government had "strayed from the straight and narrow path of its own platform."

To the 2,000,000 people living between the great lakes and the mountains, low freight rates were essential for prosperity. The years of 1901 to 1910 were years of prosperity, but also of over-expansion. They had brought the over-capitalization and duplication of railroads which confronted Canada to-day. "The Prime Minister thinks that everything is going smoothly," said Mr. Forke. "Mr. Meighen is inclined to take a gloomy view of life anyway and when he looks at the Government he despairs. For him, only a change of Government will save the country. The truth is probably somewhere between these two."

AMPUTATION MEN CLOSE CONVENTION

Captain A. E. Lambert of Toronto is Re-elected
PresidentFor Unity But Will Not Sink Identity

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Captain A. E. Lambert of Toronto was re-elected president of the Amputation Association of Canada at its final convention session here Saturday afternoon. The election of officers, together with discussion of important resolutions on amalgamation with other veterans' organizations and on distribution of poppies on Armistice Day, occupied the better part of the session.

The amalgamation resolution, which was the subject of much debate, read as follows:

"1. That the association should not sink its identity in any scheme of amalgamation.
"2. That the association should reaffirm its support of the principle of unity among veterans given in the resolution adopted at the convention held in Toronto in 1921 and adopted at succeeding conventions.
"3. That the association should continue actively to support other soldier organizations in their work in behalf of returned men and their dependents."

The resolution dealing with the manufacture and distribution of poppies on Armistice Day sought to eliminate commercialization of the work. It was urged that units of the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment should be given sole control of this manufacture and distribution and that any attempt to make profit by the sale should be checked.

In addition to Captain Lambert, other officers elected were:

H. H. Perry, Vancouver, first vice-president; A. Palmer, Winnipeg, second vice-president; A. Sutcliffe, Toronto, secretary treasurer. Executive: W. S. Dobbs, Toronto; R. Myers, Toronto; J. Brown, Toronto, and W. Bishop-Stevens, Regina.

The next convention will be held in Calgary in September, 1926.

DOCTOR FREED FROM BANDITS' CLUTCHES

Manchurian Troops Effect
Release With Seven Chinese
Captives

Peking, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Harvey J. Howard whose husband, an eye specialist of the Peking Union Medical College, was captured by Manchurian bandits on the Sungari River July 20, to-day received a telegram from Dr. Howard, saying that he had been rescued.

The telegram was dated Hwachuang, Manchuria, near the scene of Dr. Howard's capture and said that seven Chinese captives had been rescued with him. He said he would leave Hwachuang for Harbin Sunday by a Sungari River boat.

Dr. Howard informed his wife that he is emancipated from his nine weeks' captivity in the hands of the bandits, but otherwise is well.

His rescue is ascribed to the activity of troops of the Manchurian province of Holungkiang, who have been in close pursuit of the bandit gang since shortly after the capture, forcing it to divide to avoid being surrounded.

MANILA PREPARES TO FIGHT CHOLERA

Force of Nurses Ready to Ward Off Epidemic

Manila, Sept. 28.—Real cholera cases since September 1, number nineteen, of which fourteen proved fatal, four within the last twenty-four hours. These figures are given in an official report. There were also forty-two suspected cases in the same period.

The health authorities treated 4,000 persons with anti-cholera vaccine to-day and expect to increase the number to 8,000 daily. The U.S. Red Cross has placed its entire nursing staff in Manila and a large additional force of nurses at the disposal of the health service in an effort to prevent a possible epidemic. The nurses are giving inoculations and visiting homes and schools for the purpose of instructing the people in preventive measures.

LABOR MAN FLAYS BRITISH FASCISTI

Grinding Down of Workers
Will Lead to Anarchy,

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—That the British Government would be responsible for the serious consequences which would inevitably ensue if the British would assist the police, were not drilled to assist the police, were not disbanded, was the statement made by A. G. Walkden, secretary of the Railway Clerks' Association of Great Britain, to a large audience in the Royal Theatre here last night.

"Labor will not stand idly by and allow conditions similar to those which existed in Ireland with Carson's army, arise in Great Britain," he said.

Labor in the Old Land was most orderly and law-abiding, he contended, but the grinding down of the workers would mean the coming of a reign of anarchy.

He urged workers in Canada to endeavor to obtain representation in both Dominion and Provincial Parliaments and thereby obtain the necessary power to make her demands felt.

JOIN THE CHAMBER

THE VICTORIA CHAMber of Commerce to-day commenced its drive to add 150

new members to its roster. A number of busy men of business are giving their time and labor to the cause. They know there are many people of standing and sound judgment who ought to belong to the organization but who have so far held more or less aloof from its activities. We bespeak their more practical interest in the work of the Chamber, in their own interest and in the interest of the community at large, and suggest that they encourage the drive captains by adding their names to the roll. The Chamber of Commerce has served the locality well and it ought to be able to command all the support it requires. Never let it be said that Victoria lags behind other progressive communities in such an important particular.

CONTEMPTIBLE

THE OTTAWA CITIZEN,

which has for the past few years maintained an independent policy in politics, fearlessly criticizing all parties alike where adverse criticism was due, has the following illuminating editorial headed "Narrow Gauge Politics" in its issue of September 17. We reproduce it as an independent appraisal of Mr.

Meighen's campaign appeals.

The Citizen says:

"Mr. Meighen has an exceptional opportunity to furnish the country with new national leadership, but he has failed pathetically to measure up to that opportunity.

Let it be said at once that he is personally a man of character and integrity—as also is the Prime Minister, Mr. King. But Mr.

Meighen's public utterances stamp him politically as a leader only along narrow-gauge party lines. He is apparently incapable of thinking with broad vision of the nation's real interests. He is, indeed, prepared to sacrifice national interests for the sake of temporary party advantage. He cannot refrain from stooping to contemptible politics.

"Mr. Meighen's latest exhibition of narrow partizan outlook occurred at Halifax last Tuesday, where he felt it necessary to say something to offset Vincent Massey's entrance into public life on the Liberal side.

Instead of welcoming this commendable evidence of interest on the part of younger Canadian public men in national problems—even though in this instance it happened to be on the opposite side politically—Mr.

Meighen could think of nothing bigger to say than to describe Mr.

Massey's decision as "grandstand play." The Canadian Press reports Mr. Meighen's churlish reference to Mr. Massey as follows:

"It is very easy for Mr. Massey, having secured immunity while others suffered, to make a grandstand play of entering the Government."

"Far from securing immunity for himself, it can safely be said that Mr. Massey's action in entering the government has been decided upon with full realization that it means considerable personal sacrifice. He could stay comfortably capital, irrespective of whether it spreads the disruptive tendency towards sectionalism in Canada, or is calculated to destroy public confidence in the Canadian National Railways under public ownership.

"Of course Mr. Meighen's electioning policy is governed largely by the belief that such tactics are necessary to win elections in Canada. He has a low opinion of the intelligence of the Canadian electorate. He is still playing the party game as he learned it under

Mr. Rogers in Manitoba fifteen years ago—overlooking the vital fact that in the meanwhile a new generation of Canadian manhood and womanhood has grown up in Canada.

"For national leadership towards the rejuvenation of Canada, Mr.

Meighen's narrow-gauge outlook is hopeless. He is lacking in breadth of vision. After four years of opportunity as opposition leader, he is demonstrating in this election campaign that he has learned nothing.

He can give no lead to hold the confidence of young Canada. He has nothing to contribute towards the solution of national problems.

He is a disappointment to Conservative followers, and a negative factor in public life. He should be allowed to retire into political seclusion with Mr. Robert Rogers."

"THE BEST AND DEAREST

WOMAN EVER BORN"

IN AN AGE OF REMINIS-cences, with titled ladies and gentlemen telling tales out of school, as it were, not to mention the indiscretions of distinguished politicians and forgotten diplomats, it is refreshing to read of a highly-placed member of the British aristocracy inditing something simple and genuine in a last will and testament.

It was so in the case of the late Duke of Rutland, who pays tribute to his wife by describing her for all the world to learn as "the best and dearest woman ever born."

To many of his servants the Duke left substantial legacies and he closed his will with the hope that "my son, should he succeed me, will not spend his money in the purchase of unnecessary collections, but will take care of, and interest in, whatever properties may be left to him, and in the welfare of those who may become his tenants, whether cottage or farm tenants."

This sort of sentiment will be deadly dull and uninteresting to the modern sensational-monger. No society garbage is here exposed. Just the simple sentiments of a plain man.

They are surely at a premium these days.

MR. MASSEY CONSIDERS

THE CONSUMERS

FOR A FRANK DECLARation of personal conviction and opinion on public policy it would be difficult to surpass the statement which Hon. Vincent Massey, newly-appointed Minister without portfolio in the King Cabinet, made during the course of his opening campaign speech at Port Hope the other day. He commenced by informing his audience that he had never been a believer in high tariff protection. This is all the more notable, of course, by virtue of the fact that Mr. Massey is the executive head of one of the largest industrial establishments in this country. He went on to explain his position as follows:

My lack of belief in that doctrine

the Liberalism for which the present Administration at Ottawa stands. Mr. Massey, a manufacturer whom a high tariff would enrich—for a time only, of course, because if the protecting wall is high enough it will eventually stifle any business it surrounds—recognizes the case of the consumer. The high tariff advocate thinks only of the few.

GOOD BUSINESS FOR CANADA

IT IS GOOD NEWS THAT

Canada is satisfied with the business she has already obtained as a result of her participation in the British Empire Exhibition—last year and this year. The report which Mr. A. W. Talmie, Canadian Government Exhibition Commissioner, has recently made public contains some extremely encouraging information. He recites therein with considerable detail the practical interest which British and foreign buyers have manifested in Canadian-made articles and explains the nature of new enterprises that have been launched in consequence.

Much of the success of the exhibit is due to Canada's Commissioner himself. Mr. Talmie has shown the Empire what this Dominion can do in a most impressive fashion.

The Canadian Pavilion at Wembley is a triumph in architectural design and practicability of construction. Small wonder that good business for this country has resulted.

VENETIAN GLASS HAS REACHED CITY

Mrs. Dugald Gillespie, Well-known Society Woman, in Interesting Venture

Venetian glass, that exquisite product which is blown and fashioned by the artist-workmen of Venice to the admiration of the many tourists who visit the Italian city, is now obtainable in Victoria. Mrs. Dugald Gillespie, who recently made an extended visit to Europe, was so charmed with the daintiness and delicacy of the specimens shown in Venice, and which have hitherto been unobtainable in this city, that she gave orders for a consignment.

This has now arrived and the glass is on view at "The Treasure House," Fort Street, where Mrs. Gillespie is associated with Mrs. Woodliff, the well-known dealer in antiques and bric-a-brac. In the consignment are sets of fruit or flower bowls and vases, while the charming sets of usually beautiful decoration for the dinner table. These come in glass of gorgeous ruby shade, translucent green, blue that is like the heart of a sapphire, a cloudy liquid amber and a soft amethyst. In many of the sets tiny glass flowers of Dresden, the coloring and delicacy form motifs on bowl and candlestick with charming effect.

There are also larger glass bowls for fruit or flowers bordered with hand-engraving on the glass, the engraving showing the artistry of the Italian workman. Water jugs and glasses, wine and liquor goblets, also come in beautiful colorings and shapes, while the charming sets of perfume bottles with floral stoppers and powder jar to match would make a unique wedding or Christmas gift.

The house looking for the unusual for her house would covet the wonderful collection of Venetian glass. When lighted this piece radiates a soft golden glow which is indescribably beautiful. There, too, there are several fine mirrors with hand-engraved borders, one a copy of a very old and famous mirror which hung in the palace of a Doge of Venice.

In addition to the glass Mrs. Gillespie has purchased a few choice pieces of lacquered furniture and trays in vivid coloring, which would make charming assets to a sun room or boudoir.

The bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Machin, looked very pretty in a frock of peach crepe de chine. Both carried bouquets of pink and white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The best man was Mr. Edward H. Hemming, brother of the groom. Reception was held at 2544 Heron Street, the home of the groom's parents, where the young couple received their many friends. Mauve and pink asters and dahlias were employed in the dining-room, where these two colors made a pretty color scheme for the refreshments, gifts and decorations. A huge doll suspended from the chandelier occupied the centre of the table. Her wide crinoline skirt of mauve and pink ruffles concealed the many gifts. WOULD SAFEGUARD MINORS IN INDUSTRIAL EMPLOYMENT

Child Welfare Council Hears Recommendations From Judge Helen MacGill

Ottawa, Sept. 28 (Canadian Press)—Judge Helen MacGill of Vancouver, in her child labor committee report to the Child Welfare Council, whose fifth annual session opened here to-day, recommended that the minimum age for employment in industrial undertakings be fifteen years for both sexes; night employment be prohibited for those under eighteen years of age, except in certain special circumstances; that persons under twenty-one be not employed in dangerous, unhealthy or hazardous occupations, or in any work that would retard their proper physical or moral development.

MINIMUM WAGE FOR MINORS

It was also recommended in the committee's report that the eight-hour day and forty-four-hour week should be free or low cost every day under eighteen years of age, and that their hours spent in schools count as labor, also that eight hours a week should be so spent. Further, Judge MacGill asked that the Minimum Wage Act be amended to include all minors under eighteen years and that their wages for full time work should produce not less than the minimum essential for the cost of living. She recommended that there be an annual personal examination of all working children under eighteen and over sixteen years and that no child be permitted to work until it was certified that he was physically fit for the work. It was desirable that all medical officers for girls, and all medical officers for boys, report to the Provincial Secretary and the Minimum Wage Board. The report asked for a separate division of the Government Labor Bureau for juvenile employment.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

The education division report asked provision for vocational training; day and night classes for every urban municipality of 5,000 or more; for compulsory school attendance from six to fourteen years; limitation of classes to thirty-two pupils; more kindergarten; medical and dental examinations for children; provision for the delicate, sick and under-nourished; and the provision of books to those unable to pay in full, and for sex instruction through physiology, hygiene, biology, domestic science and physical education.

SUPERVISORY RECREATION

The recreation committee in its report asked that every child of a family of 10,000 or more employ at least one person to lead in recreation for children; that provision be made for the training of boy and girl leaders; that provision be made for courses, and for the education of volunteer assistants by extension and summer courses; that recreation progress be made for twelve months of the year.

Other recommendations were for summer play schools or camps, for field days, more playgrounds, and especially for the formation of an organization corresponding to the Playground and Recreation Association of America in the United States.

DOCTOR DEPRECIATES "BABYING" OF BOYS

Put Him on His Metal and Make a Man of Him, He Says

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—The "babying" of boys was deprecated by Dr. C. E. Beaman of the boys' training farm, Bowmanville, who last night addressed the delegates to the Canadian Association of child protection officers. He urged the necessity of early putting the boy on his mettle and making a man out of him. He gave it as the result of his extensive experience that every boy had a code of ethics of his own and that those in authority over them needed to study this carefully. "Our place at Bowmanville is not an industrial reformatory," he said. "It is not an institution, it is a school. Our boys are not delinquents, they are students."

Dr. Helen MacMurchy of the Federal Department of Health Child Welfare Branch, deplored the fact that there were far too many children in institutions, reformatory schools and such, and expressed the hope that the result of the conference on child welfare to be held here commencing Monday would tend to reduce this in the future.

Mrs. C. H. Thorburn, president of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare, stressed the need of protecting the child rather than correction, and for the success of their work was to be found in the fact that whereas in former days the main thought appeared to be to correct the delinquent, the aim now was to protect the young children from the influences and causes which made him delinquent.

Officers were elected for the Child Protection Officers' Association Saturday as follows:

Honorary president, Dr. Helen MacMurchy, Ottawa.

President, A. G. Cameron.

Vice-president, Judge Henry Shaw, Vancouver.

Interintendent, K. C. McLeod, Edmonton.

Commissioners, F. J. Reynolds, Regina; W. A. Weston, Winnipeg; Judge Lacroix, Quebec.

Secretary-treasurer, Judge Ethel MacLachlan, Regina.

The next convention will take place in conjunction with the 1926 convention of the Child Welfare Association. The latter organization will select its meeting-place for next year, this week.

Those Winning Smiles

which mean so much... commercially, socially, are gained this new way with gleaming, white teeth

Don't believe your teeth are "naturally" dull. Just accept this 10-day test. See how dazzling white teeth and healthy gums come when film coats go.

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off-color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, given dazzling whiteness.

In a few days you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums. It clings to the teeth, get into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combatant, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

A routine day is forecast from the dominant planetary operations, which are unimportant. It is suggested that care be exercised to guard against deception and fraud, especially in connection with new enterprises. All contracts and agreements should be carefully scrutinized for loopholes, for trickery or misrepresentation. Change may bring benefits if sufficiently safeguarded, and the money be judiciously handled.

Those whose birthday it is may not look for a very important year, although they should be on the alert against all manner of fraud, misrepresentation and treachery. Change may be of benefit if properly considered, but new ventures are read as of great hazard. A child born on this day may be fairly clever, but it is likely to have a rather colorless career unless the hour of its birth indicate otherwise.

Plan Bazaar.—The ladies of Court Triumph A.O.F. are planning to hold their annual bazaar, November 20, in Foresters' Hall, and will hold a meeting Wednesday at 2.30 in the committee room, A.O.F. Hall, to make further arrangements. Contributors and all members and friends interested are asked to be present.

Peter Kyne Story
Now in Film Form
Shows at Dominion"Never the Twain Shall Meet" Promises Fine Picture Fare

"Never the Twain Shall Meet," Peter B. Kyne's enchanting story of the South Sea Islands, will be shown at the Dominion Theatre for six days, beginning to-day, according to an announcement made by the management yesterday.

This picture, a Cosmopolitan production, directed by the celebrated French director Maurice Tourneur, was pictured in Tahiti and Moorea, two of the famous islands of the South Sea group. The cast includes such prominent players as Anita Stewart, Bert Lytell, Huntly Gordon, Justine Johnston, George Siegmann, Lionel Belmore, William Morris, Emily Fitzroy, Princess Marie de Bourbon and Florence Turner.

Perhaps never in the history of moving pictures has there been a story filmed against such gorgeously beautiful backgrounds as those which appear in "Never the Twain Shall Meet." Filled with all the magic and romance associated with life in the South Seas, this photo-play sounds an entirely new note in the literature and drama of motion pictures.

In the role of Tamca, the half-caste island princess, Anita Stewart appears in a characterization thoroughly suited to her enchanting personality—a portrayal which calls for many phases of dramatic intensity, varied with comedy situations. Bert Lytell plays opposite Miss Stewart in the role of Dan Fritchard.

The production is lavish in the extreme, and as the picture develops on the screen there is a breadth and freedom, a tropical magic and a pictorial panorama of loveliness never before visualized with a moving picture camera. In addition to a wealth of scenic beauty there is an equal beauty in the exotic interior setting, designed by the masterful hand of Joseph Urban.

"Never the Twain Shall Meet" is distributed by Metro-Goldwyn.

Success of European Stage "Fine Clothes" Comes to Capitol

Adaptation from Frans Molnar Play Is Outstanding Picture

"Fine Clothes," First National's forthcoming offering at the Capitol Theatre, is a translation from Frans Molnar's European stage success, "Fashions for Men," which also had a spectacular run on Broadway.

Both the translation and the screen adaptation were the work of Benjamin Glaser, who, until the outbreak of the war, was occupied as a lawyer without professional thought either to the stage or the screen.

While serving overseas, however, Glaser met a French musical critic, and it was through his insistence that he started translating plays.

His first work was the adaptation of Herman Ballo's sensation, "The Master," shortly after the close of the war. Several other European plays followed, and finally he did Molnar's "Fashions for Men," which was the play produced by the New York Theatre Guild in which Joseph Schildkraut scored an instantaneous success.

After "Liliom" came "The Swan," "A Prelude to King Lear," a long one-act play, and then "Fashions for Men." While Molnar's native tongue is Hungarian, the openings of his plays are usually staged in Vienna, hence he translates his own works into the German tongue for this purpose.

It was from the German that Glaser translated "Fashions for Men," and when Louis B. Mayer and John M. Stahl decided to transfer the stage success to the screen, they employed the translator to carry his work further, in the form of a screen adaptation.

Another of Hincks' Local Musical Tales On Playhouse Boards

My Lord and Lady Smith in a Riot of Comedy

"My Lord and Lady Smith," which is the stage part of the programme at the Playhouse this week, is another of Reginald Hincks' popular local musical tales. All who saw the last one, "Sally from Saanich," weeks ago and proclaimed it one of Mr. Hincks' best comedy shows, have indeed a pleasant surprise in store for this week. "My Lord and Lady Smith" is a riot of comedy. You will meet Mrs. Chamaus Jones and Mrs. Spring Ridge, who will keep you in roars of laughter. In addition the songs (one of which is "There Ain't No Pies on Auntie") and the dancing, will make this one of the best little shows ever offered at the Playhouse.

ATTRIBUTES FILM FAME

Claire Windsor, who has the leading feminine role in "Born Rich," a First National picture, directed by Will Nigh for Garrick Pictures Corporation, which is now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, relates an interesting story of how she started her film career.

Five years ago she was just a struggling little extra girl. It was not that she felt the call to act nor that she could make Mrs. Pike or Mary Pickford retire in despair when she started in. Her appearance in a picture studio was due to the somewhat unromantic necessity of money making.

"Maud went to a palmet to find out the best time to get married."

"What did he tell her?"

"He took one look at her and told her to grab the first chance."

Comedy on Stage And Screen at the Coliseum This Week

"Stop Thief" by the Stock Company. "Welcome Home" Is Film

The Coliseum players appear in comedy again this week with "Stop Thief," a screaming farce that took London and New York by storm during the war on the boards. This is another of the farces so suitable for the Coliseum players. There is a burglar, a wedding, kleptomaniacs, deceptions and complications. There is a real burglar and the police are on his trail, but wedding guests suspecting they have kleptomaniac tendencies are doubtful of themselves. One complication follows another. There is as much humor crowded into this little play as there is in any ever written, and judging from the rehearsals the company will put over another success. George Brydon will be welcomed back to the company after a two weeks' vacation. The others in the cast this week will be Vangie Bellby, Eileen Allwood, Ruth Hamilton, George Olsen and Legge Willis. There are many musical numbers with George Olsen appearing in a song specially written for him by Stage Manager Will Campbell. There is also another fine film showing this week produced by the same man that made "Merton of the Movies" and "The Goose Hangs High."

More than 150 men ranging from sixty-two to ninety-four years of age take part in scenes of "Welcome Home," James Cruze's current production for Paramount, which opens at the Coliseum to-night.

A page of comedy and drama out of the every-day life of the American family provides the theme of "Welcome Home," and the grizzled veterans faithfully play their roles as inmates of an old men's home. Lois Wilson, Warner Baxter and Luke Cosgrave are the featured players of the cast.

Laughs Galore in "Let Women Alone" Now at Columbia

Scintillating Comedy-Drama Made From Saturday Evening Post Story

"Let Women Alone," admonishes the picture at the Columbia Theatre this week and proves that it is the young "bachelors" who have their own and spunk enough to carry them out to the discomfiture of the old one's son and the young one's uncle. The picture is the screen version of Viola Brothers Shore's Saturday Evening Post story, "On the Shelf." Ma Benham whose son Tom has transplanted her from a farm in Idaho to a life of luxury in the city, begins to get restless. She cannot do even a little dusting without having the maid rush up and take the dust-cloth out of her hands. Finally, without her son's knowledge, she takes a job as companion to the three-year-old daughter of a widowed interior decorator. Ma throws Tom and Ma's employer together and in the situations which ensue are combined intense drama and delicious humor.

Music Lovers' Night At Capitol To-night

In connection with the first showing in this city of "Fine Clothes," the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre this week, a special musical programme has been arranged by A. Prescott for music lover's night. The numbers to be rendered are very varied, and should please all tastes in music.

Some of the numbers to be rendered during the evening are as follows: "Beautiful Galathée," Suppe; "No, No, Nannette," Youmans; "Valse Kluge," Zamenick; "Oh Say Can I See You To-Night," Flatow; "If I Had a Girl Like You," Henderson; "Oh Boy What a Girl," Green.

in "automobile" relay races, when the fellows trundled big tires around the gym in various kinds of competitions. Many "break-downs" were in evidence.

After an hour in the gym came the hot showers. When the word was given to "hit the water" a resounding splash went up as the gang jumped or dived in all manner and means of entering the water. Many showed themselves quite capable of handling themselves in the water and the leaders of the group say the rest soon will.

Assisting George Porteous, the Boys' Work secretary, in handling the group were Dave LePage, Ernie Peden and Bill Robertson of the Y.M.C.A. leaders' corps.

NEW STAR—Dulsina Gianini, Italian-American concert singer, made a strong impression on her tour of Europe this summer. So favorably was she received in Berlin that she has been booked for an extended fall engagement there.

A certain surgeon who is very young and also rather shy was invited to a dinner-party given by a woman who is at least fifty, but who is old enough for twenty.

At dinner she asked the surgeon to carve a chicken, and not having done so before, he failed miserably.

Instead of trying to cover his confusion, the hostess called attention to it by looking down the table and saying, loudly: "Well, you may be a clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg cut off I should not come to you to do it."

"No," he replied, politely, "but, then, you are not a chicken."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Billie's Bounce

Copyright, 1925, by Victor Gollancz Ltd. (By Howard R. Garis)

Not far from Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump, bungalow grew a big chestnut tree. And how that summer was ended and winter getting ready to pay a visit to woodland, on the tree hung many green chestnuts. No, they weren't boiled chestnuts, nor roasted ones such as you may buy at the street corner for five cents for a cupful. And you may be laughing at me for calling chestnuts green, when all you may have seen were brown in color.

But listen, as the telephone girl says. Chestnuts themselves are brown in color, when they are ripe, but they have an outside, prickly burr on them, and that burr is colored green, until Jack Frost makes that also, brown in color.

But, as yet, Jack Frost had not put his cold fingers in the chestnut burr, and they were green in color. And Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, looking up at them, wondered how soon it would be before the nuts would be ripe enough to eat.

"May I climb your chestnut tree, Uncle Wiggily, and look at the nuts?" asked Billie one day as he was on his way to the schoolhouse. "It's early yet," said Uncle Wiggily, "and I won't be late."

"Very well, then," answered Uncle Wiggily. "You may climb my chestnut tree, for I am going to let you squirrel boys have the nuts anyhow, when they are ripe, as I don't eat them. But be careful not to fall down, Billie. And be sure you aren't late for school!"

"Oh, yes, Uncle Wiggily!" eagerly chattered the big tailed chap. "I'll be sure to do that! I mean I'll be sure not to fall!" he said.

"All right!" chuckled the bunny rabbit gentleman. "My, but what a fat little squirrel you are getting to be!" he exclaimed in surprise.

"Why, Billie, you are as fat as a butter or an apple dumpling—I don't know which!"

"Yes, I guess I am a little fat," agreed Billie, and he scrambled up the chestnut tree.

"You are more than a little fat," went on Mr. Longears. "You are a whole lot fat! I guess it doesn't hurt you to fall down; does it, Billie?"

"Not much, no sir," answered the squirrel boy, and then he began looking at the nuts on the tree to see how soon they would be ripe and ready for him and his brother Johnnie to eat.

Uncle Wiggily hopped into the bungalow twinkling his pink nose, and wondering what sort of an adventure he would have that day, when all of a sudden, Scooter, one of his little rabbit boys, came jumping into the kitchen.

"Oh, Daddycums Wiggily!" cried Scooter. "You ought to see Billie!"

"What's the matter?" asked the bunny gentleman, apprehensive like and nervous. "Has Billie fallen out of the chestnut tree?"

"Yes, he fell out," said Scooter, "and he fell down but he's so fat that as soon as he hit the ground he bounced up again. And then he fell down once more and he bounced up again, like a rubber ball, and he keeps on bouncing—he can't stop! Oh, it's terrible!"

Uncle Wiggily ran out to the tree and, surely enough, there was the squirrel boy bouncing up and down, just like a rubber ball. He had slipped and fallen, and he was so fat that he wasn't hurt. But he couldn't stop bouncing up and down.

"Catch me! Hold me! Stop me from bouncing!" chattered Billie. But he bounced up and down so fast that no one could keep hold of him. And then Uncle Wiggily hopped back into his bungalow and got a large piece of sticky flypaper, fastening it to the ground with wooden pegs.

Uncle Wiggily pegged the sticky flypaper fast to the ground right beneath Billie, when the squirrel boy was up in the air. And the next time he bounced down Billie sat on the flypaper, which held him fast so he couldn't go up again.

"Thank goodness, I've stopped bouncing!" chattered the squirrel. "Thank you, Uncle Wiggily."

"Are the nuts ripe?" asked the bunny as he put some grease on the flypaper, so he could pull Billie loose.

"They will be next week," laughed Billie. "But I guess I'll let Jack Frost break open the prickly burrs and scatter the nuts for me," and he did. So if the back door doesn't run around and climb up the front steps and watch the postman leave the mail, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the little flower.

"Which do you consider the most warlike nation, doctor?"

"Oh, vaccination! It's nearly always in arms!"

ACCIDENTS CAUSE HEAVY DEATH TOLL

Long Chapter of Tragedies Reported From Eastern Canada

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—A long chapter of violent deaths met with a variety of causes were reported in Eastern Canada over the week-end, auto fatalities being in the ascendency.

A. Murphy, sixty, Burlington, Vt., was instantly killed Sunday near St. Johns, Que., when his car went into a ditch.

Paul Marlow of Tupper Lake, N.Y., attempted to avoid hitting some turkeys with his car near Kemptville, Ont. His car swerved into a ditch and he was instantly killed.

Herman Rivalt, sixteen, of Rochester, Ont., was killed near Ruscombe, when his automobile and a delivery rig collided.

Antonio Geroux, forty-five, was instantly killed when a ladder which he was climbing slipped and threw him to the ground in Toronto.

Mrs. A. R. Odell, sixty-two, is dead in Toronto from injuries received Saturday when run over by a street car.

Edward Somers, thirty, of Orillia, was electrocuted at Kitchener when he came into contact with a low-hanging power wire as he was unloading coal from a truck.

SHEEP BREEDERS PLAN TO DISCUSS AMENDMENT TO ACT

Meeting in Support of Proposed Amendment Will Be Before Legislature Meets

Special to The Times
Metochosin, Sept. 28.—A public meeting will be called before the Legislature meets of all sheep men on Vancouver Island and the mainland in support of the proposed amendment of the present Sheep Act.

Strong recommendations were made by the Legislative committee last year, and it is hoped that sufficient support will be secured to pass a measure on the statute books that will give added encouragement to those wishing to follow this profitable line of industry.

The opportunity in British Columbia for breeding sheep cannot be equalled, and the mainland is splendidly adapted for the raising of a vast number of sheep.

Recently Mr. Harding, in the service of the Dominion Government Livestock Department, was on the island engaged in the grading of pure bred sheep sires. There are only a few flocks of pure bred sheep on Vancouver Island, and Mr. Harding stated that the Shropshire was undoubtedly one of the best breed of sheep to carry. The suitability of the country to the Cheviot he particularly stressed also, but apparently there are no sheep of this class on the island. Here is a golden opportunity for men engaged in this industry to branch out in this line, as Mr. Harding's expert knowledge is worthy of consideration.

Entries of early potatoes were made of the varieties of "Early Ohio" and "Bliss Triumph" from the farm of the Whitney Griffiths Bros., Metochosin, which secured three first prizes out of four entries at the New Westminster fair. This emphasizes again that Vancouver Island can more than hold its own for early products. In the Sooke class prizes were secured for plums, but it was noticed that, as in former years, it was difficult to secure prizes for apples owing to the absence of color and maturity of the later varieties.

The Whitney Griffiths Bros. have bought the Shropshire sheep, which were exhibited at the fair by the Dominion Government. One of the largest flocks of Shropshire sheep on the island are now carried by the Whitney Griffiths Bros., and this addition of new blood will enable the owners to enter in all competitive classes at next year's fairs.

Hornsby Smashes Out Two Homeruns For Total of 39

St. Louis Pilot Not Far Behind His Record Mark of 42 Made Last Year

Washington, With Substitute Team, Beat St. Louis; Pirates Also Win

New York, Sept. 28.—Keen rivalry over third and fourth place stands as the major league clubs swing into the final week of the 1925 season. Detroit took a firmer grip on fourth place in the American League by beating New York in the first game of a double-header. The second was called after five innings with the score tied on account of darkness.

Babe Ruth hit his twenty-second homer of the season and Bob Meusel his thirty-second. Hellman, of Detroit, also hit a home run. The Tigers drew nearer to third place, for the Browns lost to Washington, leaving St. Louis a lead of two and a half games.

Brooklyn's victory over the Giants was marked by an ovation for Jack Fournier of the Robins by 15,000 fans. He recently declared he would not play with Brooklyn next season because of vile razzing at home games.

The Braves pulled out of the series with five won and one lost by dividing a double-header with the Cardinals. Boston, however, was compelled to relinquish fifth place to the Robins by two points. St. Louis won the first game and lost the second. The latter game was called after seven innings on account of darkness. Rogers Hornsby hit a homer in each game, running his season's total to thirty-nine.

The Pirates won from the Reds, rain stopping play after five innings. Chicago made the Phillies' chance of occupying the National League cellar more certain by handing them a setback in the final of their series.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Washington, Sept. 28.—Pitcher "Curley" Ogden, lately returned to Washington from Chattanooga of the Southern League, held St. Louis to three hits yesterday and enabled the champions to tie the season series with the Browns. Washington won, 8 to 6. Only three of the champions regulars played the full game, the substitute bagging 12 of the 17 hits garnered by Gaston and Wingo. It was Nick Altrock, Al Schenzel, Dick the park and the Washington comedian coaches put on their full repertoire of monkey shins. R. H. E. St. Louis..... 8 15 1

The second game was called at the end of the fifth inning with the score tied, 1 to 1, on account of darkness. It was Ruth's second circuit drive of the season and Meusel's thirty-second. FOURNIER GETS A HAND Brooklyn, Sept. 28.—Brooklyn returned from its four-day western trip yesterday to beat New York, 8 to 4, in a ninth-inning finish. Fournier, who received a great hand from the 15,000 fans despite his threat not to play with the Robins after this season, twice drove in the tying run and figured in the ninth inning rally in which the Robins bunched four hits to score the winning run.

Colwood Course Record Falls To Alec Marling

Superb Shooting by Colwood Pro Brings Him His Greatest Triumph in Canada; Gets a 69 on One of Most Difficult Courses in World

ALEC MARLING.

Two weeks ago Alec Marling, pro at the Colwood Golf Club, gave notice that he would break seventy at Colwood or "bust." Well he has done it. He started on the job in real earnest last Monday and got going on the outward journey in fine form; but the inevitable happened; he slipped a hole or two coming in. On Saturday afternoon hopes looked bright again, yet he had to be satisfied with a seventy-one. Playing with J. Graham-Graham yesterday morning, however, he shot a faultless sixty-nine. Then he followed it up with a seventy-three in the afternoon. Here is the morning card:

Out..... 4 3 3 5 4 2 4 5 38
In..... 4 4 4 4 5 2 5 5 36
With two holes to go it looked as if Alec had a sixty-seven on ice, but on the seventeenth and likewise on the eighteenth prevented him from getting what would have been his gratifying triumph of his golfing career in this country. As it was he can hang up his card and feel as tickled with the performance as he wishes. But Alec is nothing if not ambitious. He announced yesterday afternoon that he will not be satisfied until he has put a course record where he thinks it will stick for some time to come. More power to his elbow!

Willie Black of Bellingham, formerly pro at Colwood, with a 70 over the short course, was officially credited with the record until Marling swung his clubs so smoothly yesterday.

Hagen Retains His Title By Shooting Spectacular Golf

Defeats Bill Mehlhorn by 6 and 5; Took Only 114 Strokes For 31 Holes

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Walter Hagen of Pasadena, Fla., by playing 21 holes in 114 strokes, or ten under four and six better than par on Saturday, successfully defended his title as professional golf champion of the United States. He defeated William Mehlhorn of Chicago, 6 and 5, although the latter was three under four himself. The contest, which probably has never been equalled for spectacular scoring in the history of golf, was played at the Olympia Fields Country Club.

It was only near the close after struggling against the impossible for twenty-seven holes that Mehlhorn weakened perceptibly under the unmerciful and persistent attacks of the former British open champion, and lost his cunning. Naturally to shoot such superhuman golf, Hagen had to have some breaks of luck. But even without this assistance he probably would have done better than par, and likely would have won for he not only captured an eagle "three" on the first hole, which is 515 yards long, but he bagged four birdies and shot perfect golf on all the other twenty-six holes.

Mehlhorn had a few bad breaks, and made poor shots, but he also shot an eagle on the 515-yard second hole in the afternoon, snared four birdies and was above par on only six holes, playing twenty perfectly.

McQuade Captures Colwood Honors in Medal Competition

Ed. McQuade, champion of the Colwood Golf Club, added another honor to his string yesterday when he won the play-off between the twenty monthly medal winners of the Colwood Golf Club. He scored 75 in the morning and a 76 in the afternoon for a total of 151. His handicap for the trip yesterday to beat New York, 8 to 4, in a ninth-inning finish. Fournier, who received a great hand from the 15,000 fans despite his threat not to play with the Robins after this season, twice drove in the tying run and figured in the ninth inning rally in which the Robins bunched four hits to score the winning run.

L. SLADE A WINNER
L. Slade won the monthly medal competition played at the Colwood Golf Club on Saturday with a gross score of 88 and a net score of 68.

New York To Get Hamilton Club Pittsburgh Assured of a Berth

New York, Sept. 28.—The National Hockey League, until 1923 an organization operating solely in the eastern provinces of Canada, has extended its circuit far into the Atlantic districts of the United States and, when hockey's opening whistle is sounded, some time in the early days of this coming December, the league is more than likely to have a decided international flavor.

The far-reaching step in the league's activities was considered at a special meeting of the hockey magnates in this city Saturday and, although final ratification must await the annual session of the N.H.L. in Montreal October 31, it is now practically assured that New York and Pittsburgh will operate hockey teams in the circuit this winter.

But when the heads of the league sit in at the annual meeting, they also will have to decide the fate of Hamilton's club in the circuit for, in making their debut into the Canadian Winter sport, the moguls of New York have practically closed negotiations for the purchase of the entire playing force at a price reported at $75,000. Opposition to the sale by Percy Thompson of his "stermy pet" team of last year, was overcome at Saturday's meeting and the deal now only awaits the seal of approval from the Montreal meeting. The final action requisite for the applications and the Hamilton sale is considered merely a matter of form.

Weakened Vets Fall Before St. Andrew's

With Three Regulars Out of Game Locals Suffer Defeat in Pacific Coast League

Turner's goal just before time gave the crack St. Andrew's eleven of Vancouver a 2-1 victory over the Veterans in their Pacific Coast League soccer match at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. The largest crowd of the season attended and was kept on its toes the whole time by the fine exhibition put up by the visiting club.

St. Andrew's well deserved their victory as they were the aggressors during both halves and it was only through the splendid work of Bridges, the Vets' goalie, that their forwards made a score more often. Time and time again the visiting players carried the ball right into the goal mouth only to have it blocked by the Vets' goalie. The forwards looked like sure goals and earned the applause of the spectators on many occasions.

The Veterans were at a decided disadvantage through being without the services of three of their regular players. Coulter was absent through having to play with the United Services in the First Division. Phillips was out of the game with an injured foot while as a game "Red" McFarlane drove in from Island train and was unable to get down in time for the match.

The Saints more than lived up to their reputation as the best team in the Pacific Coast. Their unworked dashing plays while their combination was worth watching. The team is greatly strengthened by the addition of McFarlane and Edmunds of last year's Nanaimo team. Both men played well on Saturday while the Veterans put up a fine exhibition.

SAINTS TAKE UP ATTACK
From the first blast of Referee Stokes' whistle the visitors pressed on the Vets' goal and during the first five minutes Bridges was called on to clear several fast shots. St. Andrew's forced a corner but the ball was cleared away. The Vets carried the ball into the goal area and Merfield got the opening shot at the Saints' goal but Sharpe cleared it easily. Bridges made a fine save when he attempted to clear the ball booted it towards his own goal. McCormack drove in a long shot from near center that kept Sharpe busy in clearing.

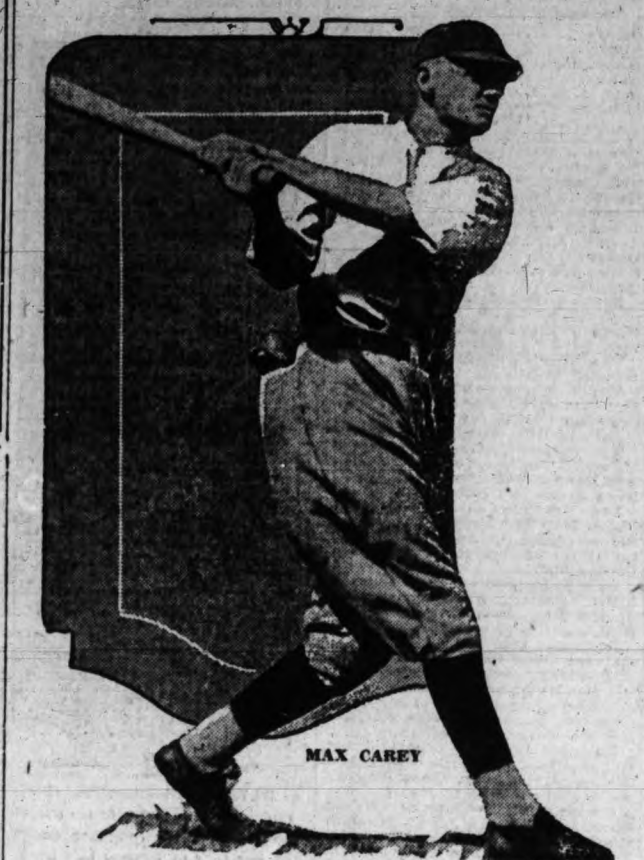

Bridges again saved the day when he blocked three fast shots in quick succession. Cameron came within an ace of scoring when he drove in a bullet shot that Sharpe tried to save, kicking it out of danger. Graham, the St. Andrew's captain, made a fine save when he goal but was too anxious his shot going wide. St. Andrew's were awarded a free kick just outside the penalty area and McGarland drove in with his body. The Saints had innumerable chances to score in this half but when being pressed by the Vets minutes later Clarke had the best opportunity of the half to put the Vets in the lead but he missed and the chance was passed up. Bridges made a grand save just before the whistle when he picked the ball out of the air after a scrimmage in the Victoria goal mouth.

SAINTS OPEN SCORING
Carrying the ball down the field from the centre-off Wilson scored the Saints' first goal when he lifted the ball into the goal from close range. The Vets were awarded a penalty kick through Edmunds handling the ball when being pressed by the local forwards. McCormack, who took the kick had no difficulty in beating Sharpe with a low drive. The Vets continued to dominate the play but erratic shooting on a couple of occasions lost them chances to secure the lead.

SCORE WINNING GOAL
With two ends of the match drawing near Turner scored the winning goal when, after working in close on the Vets' goal, he placed it between the posts from only a few feet out. Although the Vets exerted every effort to tie up the score St. Andrew's presented a strong defence and the final whistle found no further scoring.

For the Vets Preston and Campbell played well on the back division while Cameron and Clarke were the pick of the forwards. Turner, Wilson, Mc-

Queen's Win First Battle of Season In Eastern Rugby

Montréal, Sept. 28.—Queen's University beat the Montréal Big Four team, 16 to 8, in an exhibition rugby game which opened the senior football season here Saturday. Five thousand saw the tussle. Montréal had the edge in the play but were outplayed by the Dominion champions.

pas, Stan Wright, Sherratt, Ed. Popham, Jimmy Sherratt, Tooby, Passmore, Butler and Waddington. Sons of England—Holman, Tuckwell, Armitage, Harwood, Swan, Shanks, Conner, Barclay, McCabe, Eden Quainton and Thomas.

Although James Island put up a strong fight against Victoria United on the former's grounds they were forced to acknowledge defeat by the score of 3-1. The Islanders put up a good exhibition and with a little more practice will give a good account of themselves.

Saville opened the scoring for the Victoria club shortly after the start when he beat Ross, the Island goalie, with a hot shot. This pepped up the Island eleven and they stormed the Victoria goal. The Islanders forced three corners in quick succession but failed to capitalize them. The half-time whistle found the Victoria team leading by their orphan goal at one-quarter miles in commanding fashion by five lengths from the Green Tree stable's Cherry Pie.

Coming from second place with a rush, Stables' six-year-old brown gelding, Horologe, won the $10,000 Toronto Autumn cup at one-quarter miles in commanding fashion by five lengths from the Green Tree stable's Cherry Pie.

Fyfe's four-year-old Thorndale by fifteen lengths, from the Queen City stable, Guingampu, with Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Moscow, a three-year-old gelding, at Belmont Park, third, a length away. An accident at the last jump to Uppal, the 10 to 4 favorite, in which Jockey Hunt was unseated, accounted for Thorndale's win.

FERNIE WIN LAST GAME
Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Ferne Pastimers won the final game in the exhibition baseball series with the Young Liberals here on Saturday, cleaning up with two wins and a tie in the three games. The score was 10-4.

High Scoring In English Soccer Proves Popular

New Rules Have Opened and Speeded up Game; Opponents Being Won Over

Sunderland Remains Wonder Team of League; Record Number of Goals Shot

London, Sept. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The one against Leeds United, the one against Leeds United, Saturday probably accounted for a number of freak results that featured the league. The high scoring which continues seems likely to reconcile the small body of objectors to the new offside rule, tending as it has done to open up the game and to speed up play generally.

In the first string contests yesterday no fewer than fifty-nine goals were registered, and of this number eleven were shot in the game between Bury and Sheffield United at Bury. The home team came out with a margin of three corners in the eleven, thus chalking up the fifth defeat for the "blades" this season.

HOTSPURS WHITEWASHED
In the feature contest of the afternoon, the tilt at Sunderland, the home club emerged with flying colors, whitewashing Tottenham Hotspur by a trinity of goals.

At Highbury the Arsenal ran up four goals to one against Leeds United. Of the eleven games played in the First Division ten of them were decisive and all ten went to the home teams. The only drawn game was that between Huddersfield Town and Manchester City, the latter holding the titleholders to a 2-2 score on the Yorkshiremen's grounds.

Fishermen Will Not Race This Year; Too Many Fish in Ocean

Halifax, Sept. 28.—H. R. Silve, chairman of the board of Trustees of the International Schooners Trophy, stated today night that indications were there would be no fishermen's race this year. The reason, he said, was that so many of the fishermen were taking advantage of the good run of fish and ready markets to engage in fall fishing that it would be inadvisable to call them in for the annual contest.

"HEARTS ADRIFT"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Patterson shook her cordially extended hand, wondering inwardly if she would snatch it from him had she known that it had been touched, not so long before, by the woman who had stolen her husband from her.
In deference to his substantial patronage of the charity in which she interested herself actively, she herself showed him through the home, which sheltered the little children. As he watched her face and saw it soften with pity, or grow less cold with yearning over some particularly pathetic small tot, who had not yet learned the sad lesson of deserting parents, he understood why this particular charity had attracted her attention.

In her heart, she drew an analogy between these poor little waifs and her own beloved children, who had been deserted by their father. They had only her to look to for their future. In her solitude and seclusion, her reasoning had become distorted to the extent that she saw her own sheltered and pampered children as akin to these others.

When he had lingered as long as he decently could, engaging her attention with questions, reluctant to leave after accomplishing nothing tangible, luck suddenly favored him. Her car had failed to call for her!

"Will you please for a taxi, please, Miss Smithers?" she asked a secretary.

"Why trouble with a taxi, Mrs. Cartwright?" she asked, "I have a car outside. I'll gladly drive you home. It will be much quicker. On a rainy evening like this, taxis will be hard to get."

She hesitated a moment, then: "Thank you. You're very kind. She was thinking that she might be late for dinner and it was her principle to be prompt for the sake of her children."

Secretly elated, Patterson put her into his car, tucked her warmly about her feet, and raised a window against the chill driving rain.

She flushed a little, seemed almost embarrassed. It had been many a long day since she had received courtesy and consideration for her comfort from a man. She had voluntarily drawn herself away from all social contacts.

She was silent during the drive home, and Patterson was silent too, because he was casting about in his mind for some possible opening of the subject that was in his mind—one that would not send her flying from him, with a haughty word of thanks for his favor and definite dismissal.

A PLUNGE IN THE DARK

For the second time that afternoon since his meeting with Alma Cartwright, luck favored Patterson. The five o'clock tide of traffic was at its height in the Avenue when a trolley car went off the track at the intersection of one of the busiest streets. The stream of home going motors was dammed completely for blocks in each direction. Patterson's car was caught along with the rest. It was impossible to go forward or backward. There was nothing to do but wait.

"I'm frightfully sorry, Mrs. Cartwright," he said.

Grouchy!

"—but who wouldn't be?"

SHE'S all dressed to go to the theatre. And here he is doubled up again with indignation. He ate a big dinner, and now he is paying the piper, as usual. No wonder she's disgusted.

A few Life Saver Pep-o-mints often work wonders in cases like this.

They are Life Savers As an aid to digestion

After a long moment she said: "See, the traffic is clearing. We can continue now."

POINTED TRUTHS

Patterson brought his car to a standstill before the door of the Cartwright house on the Square and assisted Alma Cartwright to alight. He noted that the house was in darkness, as always. No light showed through the drawn blinds. Even the faint light above the door was dark and blank.

"Forgive me, Mrs. Cartwright, for overstepping the bounds of the merest acquaintanceship," he said. "My only excuse is that the painful subject we have discussed is very close to my heart in some ways."

She inclined her head in acknowledgment of his apology. "Thank you for driving me home, and thank you for your patronage of the Orphan's Home."

He stood for a moment looking after her as she mounted the wide stone steps, a slender, lonely, but proudly erect figure in the rainy dusk. The door opened silently, as if at a signal and closed again silently upon her.

He was sure that he had failed.

Lila was to dine with him that night. He dressed hastily and called for her at the Demarest house. The drawing room was firelit and Lila, in a charming evening gown, was seated at the piano. Her fingers wandered softly over the yellowed keys and there was the ghost of an echo in the room as though she might have been singing just before he entered—the merest breath of a song, but one with a familiar lilt.

He had heard that air not so long before in France. It was Madge who had sung it—Madge, defiantly beautiful, restless, and reckless in Madam de Marzel's garden overlooking the sea.

He hoped he was not mistaken; that Lila could sing again, and a constant beloved to her unfortunate sister, at that! For it proved to him that, step by painful step, Lila was coming back along the perilous road she had traveled; the bitterness was leaving her soul and her old sweetness was returning; hope was in her eyes once more.

In appearance, she had changed greatly since the night he met her. The lines that late hours and too many cocktails and cigarettes had etched in her face, were smoothing away. She smiled again, happily.

not the bitter, twisted, scornful smile of the girl who had flaunted her name and history in his face.

"End Atkins called me up to-day for the eighty-eighth time," she told Patterson while they were at dinner. "She wanted to know what on earth had happened to me; why I'd dropped out of the old crowd. I told her frankly about you. She thinks you're a beau of mine," she tossed him a mischievous smile.

"I wish I were," he answered promptly.

Lila sighed. "I wish so too," she admitted, "but there'll never be but one man for me in all the world. And I've lost him!"

A week later, to Patterson's amazement, Alma Cartwright sent for him. She received him in the library, a stately, rather depressing room, with its book shelves and old English prints. The drawing room was still closed, its heavy mahogany, double doors, suggesting that they concealed a chamber of the dead—the corpse of an old scandal. Patterson found himself thinking whimsically. He felt deep pity for Alma Cartwright, not only for the wrong that had been done to her, but also for the harm she had done herself.

GOVERNMENTS CLASH
IN AUSTRALIAN TILT*New South Wales Refuses to Bow to Federal Deportation Policy

Melbourne, Sept. 28.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Most of the Federal Ministers have returned to their constituencies and the election campaign is now in full swing. Addressing a convention at Sydney, Premier Stanley Bruce declared that Australia was confronted with a greater menace than Prussianism was to Europe, namely, the destruction of law and order. He said the Federal Government met with flat refusal when it called on the New South Wales Labor Government to enforce the Commonwealth deportation laws, which means that the state was arrogating to itself the power to say what laws the Federal Government should pass.

He intends to spend a few days in Warsaw, conferring with the Premier and other members of the Polish Cabinet. KING CONFRONTS
FUNERAL TALK
WITH FACTS*Four Thousand New Factories and Industries in Canada*Conservative Legacy of Huge Deficit Replaced by Substantial Surplus

Field, Sept. 28.—Hon. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Works, addressed a large meeting at Field on Saturday night. He explained how the Liberal Government dealt with the problems they found facing them when they came into power. In referring to Mr. Meighen's penchant for preaching the gospel of blue ruin during the present campaign, said he did not believe the electorate approved of such lack of faith in Canada. There was no place in the country in the face of undoubted increased trades and prosperity for knucklers. The Minister stated that since the Liberal Government came into office it wiped out the deficit of $81,000,000 left them as a legacy by the Conservative administration into substantial surpluses, that they brought about a reduction of customs duties on the importation of production in the basic industries, reduction of the sales tax and income tax. If the Conservative party were returned to power they would be bound to increase the present protection of ten per cent to thirty-five per cent on certain lines of manufacture to the point where the Canadian people would not be able to sell abroad, but would be compelled to trade "jack-knives" amongst themselves.

NEEDS FOREIGN MARKET

Canada required a foreign market to absorb the huge surplus grain crop which with a higher protective tariff would be impossible, because of the increased cost of the implements of production to the farmer. In referring to the statement of Mr. Meighen respecting the failure of 3,000 factories, Dr. King pointed out that he is not stating that some 4,000 to 5,000 new factories and industries have opened up; that instead of the depression existing as Mr. Meighen claims, trade statistics are up $60,000,000, and increasing by leaps and bounds.

With reference to the statement of Mr. Meighen that hundreds of thousands of Canadians had left Canada, Dr. King pointed out that whereas Canada entered the war she was gaining the United States did not do so until some years later, and during her period of neutrality wealth poured into the country which gave her a prosperity unprecedented in her history, which naturally attracted certain numbers of Canadians; but that these were now returning to Canada by thousands due to the improved conditions in Canada as a result of the policies of the Mackenzie King administration. On the question of immigration, Dr. King explained that the Liberal Government considered it wise to adopt a policy of selective immigration rather than opening the doors to indiscriminate emigrants from European countries.

Hon. J. A. Buckham and Capt. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P., also addressed the meeting. The speaker of the day before the audience in a vigorous and forceful manner. A strong point in Capt. Mackenzie's speech was his reference to the sympathy of the Liberal Government to the returned men and the widows and orphans as evidenced by the granting of an Appeal Board which the Conservative administration had refused.

WIFE'S MAN FRIEND*Motors up to Home and Fires Bullets into Love Pirate

Los Angeles, Sept. 28.—A man motored up to the home of J. Suther, at Vernon, a suburb, Sunday, and called to him to come outside. Recognizing the voice, Suther took a letter from his pocket and on the back of the envelope wrote a brief farewell note to his sweetheart in Houston, Texas. When he opened the front door, walked out and a few seconds later fell lifeless to the sidewalk with three bullets in his body. His caller surrendered to the police, gave his name as Leland Harder, and explained, they said, that he had shot Suther because he had been intimate with his wife.

On the envelope in Suther's pocket were the words: "In case anything happens notify Miss Anna Bush, 908 Roman Avenue, Houston, Texas. Good-bye, dear, if I never see you again. Love."

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The latest surveys by the Brookmire Economic Service indicate that 1925-26 will be another $10,000,000,000 crop year, says Carl P. Johnson, president of Johnson, Read & Company, in the new issue of Class Magazine. Business reviews issued by banks, mercantile agencies and by the various trade and class journals call attention to the increased purchasing power of the farmer, whose "comeback" within the past two years has been little short of marvelous.

Mail-order business, which has always afforded a reliable index to the farmer's buying power, has grown by leaps and bounds. The farm implement business, likewise, has not only recovered from its post-war slump, but set a new record in sales. The farmer has again become the mainstay of industrial activity, and the ten billion dollars of new wealth which he is producing is a tremendously reassuring factor.

Not only is he a producer, but as a consumer he cuts some ice. He represents a market made up of more than thirty per cent of our population and his prosperity overflows into every channel of industry and trade.

B. C. Forbes, one of the keenest observers of and shrewdest commentators upon business and finance, who has just completed a 10,000-mile tour of the United States, writes: "When you travel 10,000 miles over the United States, you become impressed with the overwhelming importance of agriculture. City-bred folks, city-bred financiers, city-bred business men need to travel over the country occasionally in order to obtain and retain a proper perspective."

"Sometimes you stop to ask yourself whether the people of this country have not allowed prosperity to go to their heads, so many evidences of unbridled spending do you see. But when you investigate how savings bank deposits have fared, you discover that they have increased enormously, to unprecedented totals. You discover, also, that never before was there such growth in the funds and operations of building and loan societies. You discover, moreover, that the increase in life insurance policies has been colossal."

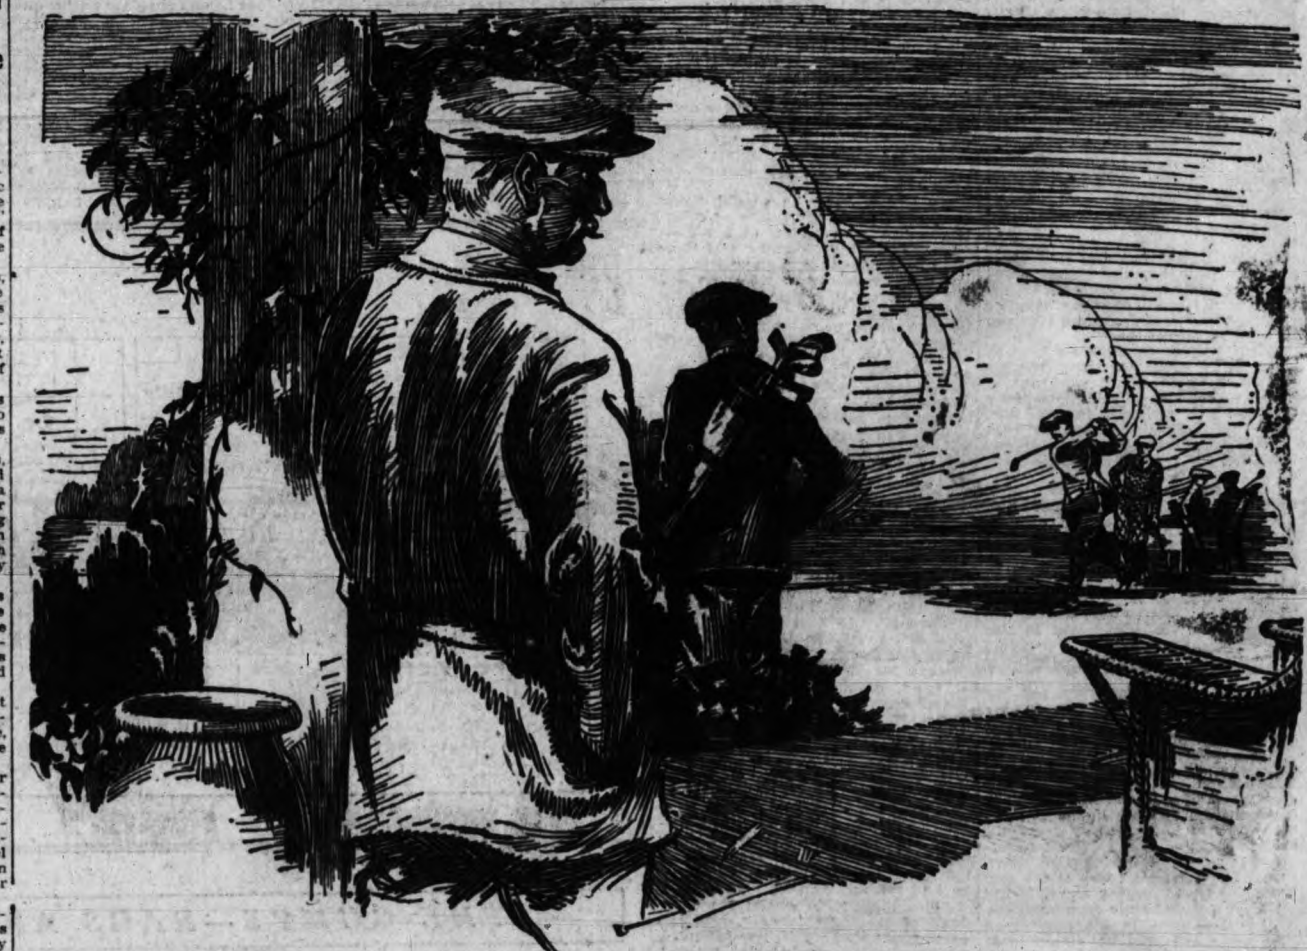

"Taking a fairly long survey, the traveler cannot but feel confident, even enthusiastic."

It is no exaggeration to say that our high standards of living were largely brought about by the power of advertising to create desires and stimulate sales. Advertising to-day is an economic force in business and its employment has made mass production possible. We are organized for production on a tremendous scale. Our factory facilities have been expanded enormously. These facilities, plus scientific management, have given leadership in mass production. Production waits on distribution, always.

Problems of distribution are now engaging the attention of industry as never before, and in certain lines we are beginning to hear much talk about the so-called "saturation point" and when it will be reached. Manufacturers realize that any slackening in demand slows down production or gluts the market.

stances as high as ten per cent. Colonel Ayers, vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, is authority for the statement that forty-three per cent of the country's business is done during the first half of the year, and the remaining fifty-seven per cent during the second half. On the average, sales run fourteen per cent better during the last stretch of the year.

That's just one more good reason for my belief that now is a good time to advertise.
